Mrs. Walter K. Malinger, of 43 Elberon avenue, is entertaining the Thimble Club this afternoon.

Announcement has just been made of the engagement of Miss Ruth M. Pettigrew, of Hacksack, N. J., to Edward L. Burrows, of the borough.

WINTER'S last snap caused a hurried revision to furs and warm apparel, and light suits, thin stockings and pumps were banished for the week. Only the spring bonnet remained triumphant.

Mrs. Harry Wain Harrison while shopping recently wore a smart tailleur of military blue gabardine. The jacket, cut on severely simple lines, had a circular flare and both it and the skirt plain skirt were bordered with beaver. Mrs. Harrison's tiny turban of blue hemp, matching her suit in shade, was given a suggestion of militarism by the small cockade placed at the front. A fluffy neckpiece and puff of taupe fox completed the attractive costume.

A simple yet distinctive costume is being worn by Miss Ethel Maule. With a boyish trottier of black cloth, made in Norfolk effect, she wears white gaiters, a smart black and white sailor hat and a black and white striped silk muffler.

Miss Anna Mary Walthour looks well in an afternoon gown of deep blue chiffon broadcloth, combined with black satin. The skirt, which is draped in an intricate fashion, is piped with green and has a tunic of the same. The coat is in hip-length and braided. Miss Walthour's scoop-shaped black straw hat is trimmed with small black ostrich plumes.

A demure little frock of primrose yellow taffeta is being worn by Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, who will be one of next season's debutantes.

ROXBOROUGH

William J. Maguire entertained last week at his home, at Spring street and Ridge avenue. Among those present were Robert Cox, Alan Kitcherman, Harry Case, Miss Anna Spear, Miss Esther Warfield, Miss Helen Warfield, Miss Fannie Thompson, Miss Anna Thompson, Miss Margaret Thompson, Miss Viola Beaver, Miss Maria Bramlage, William Kitcherman, C. Walton, Edward Jones and Edward Finegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Keever, of Harmon road and Ridge avenue, gave a dinner last night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stinson, of Camden, N. J., and tonight will give a similar entertainment in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Drake, of Germantown. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fretz, of Frankford, will be their guests over the week-end, when Mrs. Fretz will assist the hostess at a large card party given in aid of Camp Devitt at Deer Mountain, Allentown. Mrs. Keever, who is president of the Roxborough Auxiliary of the camp, will give the card party on Saturday night at her home. Others who will assist are Mrs. Norman I. Appstein, Mrs. John Cantley, Mrs. Howard Cade, Mrs. Harry Cade, Mrs. Joseph Schofield, Mrs. Joseph Schofield, Jr., Mrs. Joseph McManus, Mrs. Earl E. Everett, Miss Gertrude Peoples, Mrs. Marion Hale and Mrs. William Devitt, treasurer of the auxiliary.

Miss Katharine West, of Roxborough avenue, is visiting in Lancaster.

FRANKFORD

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams gave a "500" last evening in honor of their niece, Miss Dorothy Bruce, of Baltimore. There was dancing and music, and the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fernley, Miss Reba Murray, Mrs. Martha Gold, Miss Edna Cassell, Miss Maud Sykes, Miss Caroline Wibley, Miss Pauline Carson, Miss Virginia Martin, Miss Martha Alloway, John Graham, Harvey Molek, Alfred Maxwell, Kenneth Lewis, Hugh Wood, Arturo Jimenez, William Smith and Ralph Talley.

Miss Frances Ashton, of Holmesburg, entertained the members of the Delta Phi Sigma Sorority at her home. Those present were Miss Jane Black, Miss Sarah Strange, Miss Hilda Lomax, Miss Gertrude Harding, Miss Olive Herald, Miss Mabel Blair, Miss Everett Shere, Miss Lou Shay and Miss Francis Jones.

There will be a tea and entertainment given this evening at the Holmesburg Presbyterian Church. The affair will be called "Tea as You Like It." Those taking a prominent part are Miss Marie Cortney, Miss Myra Morrison, Miss Edna Wharton, Miss Elizabeth Hoffman, Wilbur Nixon, Miss Helen Cramer, Miss Marie Woodside and Albert Serry.

Mrs. Horace Shallorff has announced the wedding of her daughter, Miss Florence Shallorff, to L. Lewis Fretz, of Jenkintown. The event took place in Baltimore January 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Welsh, of Torresdale avenue, will leave shortly for an extended tour through the South. Later they will visit the exposition at San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haines, of 5911 Walker street, Wissinoming, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Miss Anna Deckman has returned to her home after spending a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson, of Pine road, Fox Chase.

CAMDEN AND VICINITY

Mrs. William West, formerly of this city, is at Pinehurst, N. C., after spending several months as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wynn Armstrong, of Merchantville.

Mr. and Mrs. Irs Simpler, of Schwenksville, Pa., have been visiting Mrs. Simpler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shinn, who recently returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cavanna, of 6th and Cooper streets, are at Atlantic City until Easter.

Mrs. Andrew B. Smith and her sister, Mrs. Ethel Jeffries, of 6th and Penn streets, have returned to their homes from Atlantic City.

The women's club of which Mrs. Stockton Woodward is president met in their room at Cooper Library, 2d and Cooper streets, Monday afternoon.

The fullness of the skirt is confined by shirtings at the raised waist line, and containing the bodice is a collar of hand-worked cream fluff. The costume is completed by a small, perky black hat.

Another future debutante, Miss Katherine Reeves Hunter, looks extremely well in an afternoon gown of teal de greve velvet and silk. Miss Hunter's hat is a smart Tam O'Shanter of black velvet.

Miss Mary Hall Laird wears a good-looking trottier of hunter's green broadcloth. Both the coat and the skirt are trimmed with wide bands of velvet in the same shade. A small turban of velvet with a brim of fur matches the rest of the costume.

Another attractive debutante of the season, Miss Marie Louise Starr, was seen the other day in a trim little walking suit of robin's egg blue. The jacket was belted at the high waist line and the skirt, which was quite plain, was fastened down the front with darker blue buttons. With this Miss Starr wore a tiny blue silk sailor hat, trimmed with touches of russet, which matched her furs of red fox.

Mrs. R. Walter Peterson looks well in a mauve-colored chiffon velvet having a collar and cuffs of ermine. The skirt is rather wide and the coat short. With this costume Mrs. Peterson wears a rather large old rose-colored hat, in a sailor shape, made of fine straw and tulle.

WILMINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burling Thompson will entertain at dinner tomorrow night at their home, Brookwood Farm, Greenville, for Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Scott, Jr., who were recently married. Covers will be laid for 12 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will leave on March 15 for Hot Springs.
